Message from Premier Wade MacLauchlan

*O*n behalf of the Government of Prince Edward Island, it is my pleasure to extend congratulations and best wishes to The Royal Canadian Legion on the occasion of the publication of the fourteenth edition of the Military Service Recognition Booklet.

Islanders have had a long and proud tradition of responding to the call of duty both in times of peace and in conflict. This annual publication recognizes the importance of paying tribute to those who responded to our country's needs, ordinary citizens who have made and continue to make extraordinary sacrifices to safeguard our peace.

Let us continue to honour the memory of those who have gone before us and support those who continue to ensure the freedom we enjoy today.

Message from the President

April 9th, 2017 marked the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge. The Royal Canadian Legion recognizes the significance of this historic milestone.

This year also marks the 150th birthday of our great country Canada. The Royal Canadian Legion thanks the brave men and women who bravely joined our Canadian military to protect our country and give us the freedom we have today.

On behalf of the Executive Council of Prince Edward Island, the Royal Canadian Legion, its members, staff and Ladies Auxiliary I wish to express my gratitude to all of those who have made our commemorative booklet a success. Through the efforts of this booklet, our organization will continue its strong support in the Community towards Veterans, Seniors and Youth.

Thank you.

Message from the Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island

*G*reetings to all in our milestone year of Canada 150.

Canada is a country that forges ahead into an unknown future as a respected nation, peaceful, welcoming, compassionate.

The Dominion of Canada was brought into being 150 years ago. The history that shaped the earliest days of Confederation goes back much farther, is complex and filled with struggle. Canada persisted.

There have been dark days, not only for Canada but for the world. In our darkest hours, notably a century ago, tens of thousands of men and women were involved in the cause of defending our values and freedoms, to keep Canada moving forward.

In this book, you can read the names of those in the great conflicts of the past century. They had loved ones: family, dear friends, neighbours. They had hopes for the future and dreams to fulfill.

Those named in this Military Service Recognition booklet put it all at risk for the sake of Canada. Not only did they sacrifice, they saved freedoms and humanity itself. And they made Canada not just a Confederation, but a great country of stature and significance. There is little that would constitute a greater gift of sacrifice.

On behalf of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth in the sapphire year of her reign and on the occasion of Canada 150, I thank the Prince Edward Island Command for publishing this important booklet and hope it strengthens our collective resolve for peace and appreciation for Canada and our service men and women.

Sincerely yours,

However, it was better than nothing which was what he had for six days while being moved to Holland by train. Eldon also took part in the invasion of Normandy in 1944. DUNNING, Joseph E. "Joe"

WWII

Joe was born on April 25, 1927 at Long River. He moved to Charlottetown at an early age with his family. He enlisted in the Canadian Army at the young age of sixteen. He served overseas in the Royal Canadian Artillery as a gunner until he was wounded and hospitalized in England. Due to his injuries he was discharged in October 1945. After returning to Prince Edward Island, Joe quickly moved on with his life, working at various jobs until accepting a position with the provincial government. He remained with the government until his retirement in July 1987. In June 1985, Joe married Helen Magennis-Doyle. They moved to their new home on the Mason Road in May 1990 where Joe enjoyed the community of Bunbury and his neighbours. Helen and Joe have three children: Linda, Gary and Wayne. Joe passed away on December 24, 2008.

EVANS, Joseph

WWII

Joseph was a farm boy from Tracadie Cross. At age 25, he joined the conflict in World War II. After his basic training in Canada, he was shipped overseas and saw action in Europe. His assignment as a truck driver often put him in a position where he was a highly visible target, having no place to hide. After some German successes in the early part of the war, the tide had clearly turned in favour of the Allies by 1944. Joseph was in Germany when the war ended, so the mood he faced was somewhat subdued. However, that was not the case back in his native province when V-E Day was declared on May 8, 1945. After the war, Joseph decided against a return to farm, deciding instead to pursue a career in the business world. He has been a resident at Whisperwood Villa for over eleven years.

FERGUSON, Gerald Garfield

WWII

Gerald was the son of Harry and Agnes Ferguson of Charlottetown. He served in the Army during World War II with the Cape Breton Highlanders, RCIC as Lieutenant. He was killed in Italy on March 13, 1944 at 29 years of age.

Joey was 24 years old when he found himself hunkered down in a trench near fields of timothy waving in the wind during Normandy invasion. As the battle raged, he looked up to see a hail of bullets so thick they mowed the field down like a hard rain. "That was D-Day plus one," recalls A.A. (Joey) Fraser. "It was even worse than D-Day where I was. We got hell." He attended the 50th anniversary of the Normandy invasion in Ottawa with the remaining members of his North Nova Highlander regiment. Joey enjoyed political life in Ottawa after the war.

The medals were formally presented to the PEI Regiment Museum in Charlottetown by MacKinnon's grandson Daniel. Col. Dan was a successful businessman and a former publisher of The Guardian, but is perhaps best remembered as a breeder of foxes and as a horseman. His contribution to harness racing is still commemorated annually at the Charlottetown Driving Park by a race that bears his name.

His next assignment was as Lieutenant on the Corvette Ville de Quebec which was on duty in the North African arena. While on duty in the Mediterranean Sea, the ship and her crew rammed and sank a German U-Boat. For his part in the encounter, Dave received the Distinguished Service Cross for "Vigilance, Skill and Sound Judgement as Anti Submarine Control Officer". During the D-Day operations he became Commander of the Corvette Lunenburg, a commission which he held until his retirement in 1944. After the war, David worked with the Department of Veteran Affairs in Halifax and Sydney. He moved with his family to Summerside, PEI in 1951 and opened the first Canadian Tire Store in the area, retiring from the store in 1968. David passed away in Summerside in 2002 at the age of 87.

They married in 1948 and moved to South Melville. They were blessed with eight children - six daughters and twin sons. George had a small farm and worked with the CN Marine for 24 years. In 1977, they sold their farm and moved to Cornwall. George missed the open space in the country but learned to make "his garage" his place to do many jobs that needed to be done. He was a long time active member of the Kingston Legion and there was nothing he liked better than a good old fashion dance at the Legion on Saturday night with his wife and good friends. George passed away on October 21, 2004.

MURCHISON, Manson D.

WWII

ORFORD, Clifford "Cliff"

WWII

Cliff joined the Signal Corps as a reservist in Charlottetown, moving to the Navy Reserve and the Artillery in Halifax as a regular force soldier in August 1939. He eventually got posted overseas in England with the artillery at the age of 24, doing mostly anti-aircraft work. Cliff's service in the war ended when he was wounded in December 1944 while playing cards in a rest area of a "quite front" in the town of Cuijk, Holland. A German shell hit close by; the explosion killed one of his fellow card players, and left Cliff with dents in his skull, back and both arms. He spent Christmas Eve of that year in the hospital in England. He was lucky to be alive. Clifford has many vivid memories of the war but has used his strong character to make sure his battle memories did not become a handicap after the war. His brother Frank was in the Navy. Clifford's younger brother Douglas was with the North Nova Scotia Highlanders but was killed in action one day after D-Day.

Just A Common Soldier

(A Soldier Died Today)

by A. Lawrence Vaincourt

He was getting old and paunchy and his hair was falling fast,
And he sat around the Legion, telling stories of the past.
Of a war that he had fought in and the deeds that he had done,
In his exploits with his buddies; they were heroes, every one.

And tho' sometimes, to his neighbors, his tales became a joke,
All his Legion buddies listened, for they knew whereof he spoke.
But we'll hear his tales no longer for old Bill has passed away,
And the world's a little poorer, for a soldier died today.

He will not be mourned by many, just his children and his wife,
For he lived an ordinary and quite uneventful life.
Held a job and raised a family, quietly going his own way,
And the world won't note his passing, though a soldier died today.

When politicians leave this earth, their bodies lie in state,
While thousands note their passing and proclaim that they were great.
Papers tell their whole life stories, from the time that they were young,
But the passing of a soldier goes unnoticed and unsung.

Is the greatest contribution to the welfare of our land
A guy who breaks his promises and cons his fellow man?
Or the ordinary fellow who, in times of war and strife,
Goes off to serve his Country and offers up his life?

A politician's stipend and the style in which he lives
Are sometimes disproportionate to the service that he gives.
While the ordinary soldier, who offered up his all,
Is paid off with a medal and perhaps, a pension small.

It's so easy to forget them for it was so long ago,
That the old Bills of our Country went to battle, but we know
It was not the politicians, with their compromise and ploys,
Who won for us the freedom that our Country now enjoys.

Should you find yourself in danger, with your enemies at hand,
Would you want a politician with his ever-shifting stand?
Or would you prefer a soldier, who has sworn to defend
His home, his kin and Country and would fight until the end?

He was just a common soldier and his ranks are growing thin,
But his presence should remind us we may need his like again.
For when countries are in conflict, then we find the soldier's part
Is to clean up all the troubles that the politicians start.

If we cannot do him honor while he's here to hear the praise,
Then at least let's give him homage at the ending of his days.
Perhaps just a simple headline in a paper that would say,
Our Country is in mourning, for a soldier died today.

SHERREN, Percy Clark

WWI

Wing Commander Sherren was a native to Crapaud, PEI. He was a highly-decorated airman with 27 Squadron in the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War I. He was written up in several dispatches for daring and bravery. A newspaper article in the Moncton Transcript from the period recounts him shooting down five enemy aircraft in a single day, while much of the British Army looked on. He was awarded the Military Cross on November 25, 1916 for bringing his aircraft down to just five hundred feet to bomb the Gouzeaucourt Railway Station, claiming destruction of an engine and an enemy ammunition train. Less than nine months later, he was awarded the bar to that decoration.

STEAD, Orville Alexander

WWII

Orville was born on May 23, 1918, the eighth of nine children born to Nelson and Hannah (MacDonald) Stead. He enlisted in the Canadian Army in 1942 during World War II and was posted to Newfoundland. In his youth, Orville showed great interest in continuing farming as his life's occupation. Following his Army discharge, he farmed with his brothers later his nephews. Following retirement at eighty, he continued to visit, offer support and encouragement to his nephews and grandnephews in their farming operations. He married Flora "Blanche" MacPherson on December 29, 1972. He often remarked that these were the happiest years of his life. He took great pride in the activities and accomplishments of their nieces, nephews and the youth in the area. He deeply mourned her passing in August 1996. He was a member of the Progressive Conservative Party, Wheatley River Seniors Club, Royal Canadian Legion, The Orange Lodge and PEI Trailer Club. Orville passed away peacefully on March 23, 2004.

STETSON, John Cedric

WWII

Cedric was born on April 13, 1917 to parents Alexander Gordon and Winnifred Isabel (Campbell) Stetson. He attended rural schools in PEI and graduated from Prince of Wales College, with a Commerce Certificate. During World War II, he joined the RCAF as pilot trainee. He transferred to the Army as a Driving Instructor in the Tank Corps. In 1941, he married Marion Norris Compton of Charlottetown and they moved to Windsor, Ontario following his discharge from the Armed Forces in 1945. He retired with the rank of Lieutenant. He and Marion resided in Windsor and raised two daughters and a son. Cedric's career with Canada Customers spanned four decades. He also operated a driving training school. Cedric's close ties to PEI brought him back "home" to visit almost every summer. He was an active member of the Blue Knights Motorcycle Club and many of his trips to the Island were by motorcycle. Cedric passed away on May 30, 2004.

STEVENSON, Steve

PEACETIME

Steve was born in Mount Denis, Ontario in 1928. He joined the Air Force and worked as an Air Photographer in Ottawa, Europe and Manitoba. He was a member of The Royal Canadian Legion.

STEWART, Clifton Elmer

WWII

Clifton spent his service during World War II as a spy. At age 21, he trained in Oshawa, Ontario at what was known as Camp X. Code names and secrets are all part of security coordination service; as he recalls Camp X "did not exist". He was an agent for the British Security Coordination under the direction of Sir William Stephenson. He worked across Europe and the United States, attended world conferences in Tehran, San Francisco and Quebec. Clifton modestly agreed that "Everyone has their claim to fame, but everyone did what they had to do." Clifton makes his spy career sound like mundane, everyday kind of work. Now, at age 87, Clifton remains alert and involved. Clifton still works occasionally exercising his considerable skill as an electrician, a career including designing emergency power systems to which he returned after his war service.

STEWART, Raymond Leo

WWII

Raymond was born in West Point, PEI on September 29, 1918 to the late Stephen and Lucy (LeClair) Stewart. Raymond proudly served his country during World War II. He had two brothers, Clifford and Harvey, who died in active duty overseas. He married Helen McDonald and they had six children: Lorne, Kathleen, Blair, Basil, Doris and Stephen. Raymond passed away in Alberton, PEI on November 9, 2009.

WWII

Edgar was born on December 3, 1918 and raised in Grand Manan. He joined the Royal Canadian Navy during World War II and served as a torpedo operator in the North Atlantic. It was during the war that he met and married Mary Bradley, a Charlottetown native working in Halifax at the time. After the war, they returned to Ross' Island off Grand Manan where he managed a lobster pound. They later moved to Toronto where he worked as an electrician, always returning to the east coast on holidays. Their home in Toronto became a second home for other family members, always sure of a warm welcome and generous hospitality. Following Ed's early retirement, they moved to Rusticoville, on a hill overlooking the harbour and the sea he loved so much. Ed had two daughters and two step-sons. Edgar passed away on November 12, 2003.

The Staff and Residents at the Dr. John M. Gillis Memorial Lodge would like to commend The Royal Canadian Legion on this Military Service Recognition Booklet - Volume Fourteen. It is significant that we remember the mission of The Royal Canadian Legion in years to come. It should remind us of the great sacrifices many men and women made in order to protect our great country during times of war.
