ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

PREMIER'S MESSAGE OF RECOGNITION

*O*ur province and country proudly stand on a foundation of democracy, rights, and respect for our fellow citizens. The men and women who gave their service to our country fought for and earned the freedoms that continue to benefit all Canadians.

The people of Prince Edward Island have a long-standing reputation for stepping up to meet any challenge, in times of struggle or stability – and our province's servicemen and women are the pinnacle of this distinction.

We honour our veterans and those who serve in our Canadian Armed Forces today, and we are thankful for their sacrifice and support. Their allegiance and dedication serve to remind us of the courage and commitment that is required to keep us all safe – at home and around the world.

As we look toward Remembrance Day 2022, we take time to express our gratitude and our respect for the many brave members of our armed forces who gave their individual service for the welfare of us all.

On behalf of the Government of Prince Edward Island, thank you to the Royal Canadian Legion-PEI Command on the publication of its annual Veterans' Service Recognition Book and for your dedication to paying tribute to the brave men and women who devoted their lives to defending and upholding the integrity of our nation.

Message from the President

In this 19th volume of the Veterans' Service Recognition Book, we find that the Royal Canadian Legion in PEI has for the most part emerged from the COVID-19 pandemic unscathed. Thanks to our branch executives all across the island for coming up with innovative ways to succeed. Whether, it was successful poppy campaigns, help to our Veterans, or helping in the local communities, our branches stepped up.

We also acknowledge monetary help received from Dominion Command which helped some branches in need.

Once again, our military comrades continue to deploy around the world, as well as helping domestically when called upon. We cannot ever forget their contribution to our country's defence.

This book is a way to recognize our Veterans whether they be traditional, modern, still serving, or our RCMP Veterans from PEI. Regardless if these Veterans served in war or peace we cannot let fellow islanders forget the generations of islanders who served.

"WE will remember them"

On behalf of the Prince Edward Island Command, I wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to our members, staff, Ladies Auxiliary, and our Provincial Command staff and Executive for all your challenging work. It falls on all of us to support our Veterans and dependants.

PEI Command loses a Past President - Life of service

George Olscamp, P.E.I.'s oldest living war vet, has died at age 102.

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I. — George Olscamp, believed to be P.E.I.'s oldest veteran of the Second World War, has died.

Olscamp celebrated his 102nd birthday on Sept. 21, 2021.

He died early Sept. 30 at Charlottetown's Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

In between making burial preparations with his four siblings and their families, David Olscamp, took a few moments to share some memories of his father with Salt Wire Network.

"You wish every kid had've got a father or grandfather like him – that's the kind of man he was," said David.

"He was very kind, very encouraging. Everything for him was about family."

Though he spent the majority of his life in Summerside, George Olscamp was born and raised in Atholville, N.B.

He started his working career as a young man with Provincial Bank but enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy in 1942.

When the recruiters found out he had banking experience they assigned him to the pay office in Halifax where he served until 1946.

After being discharged from the Navy, Olscamp moved to Summerside where he met and married his wife, Rita Gallant.

They had five children: David, Paul, John, Linda (Fitzgerald) and Judy (Driscoll). He had a few careers over the rest of his working life, but he worked for many years, up until his retirement in 1983, at Smallman's of Summerside.

Beyond his working career though, Olscamp loved to volunteer his time with his community and he made countless friends and colleagues doing so.

One institution, in particular, benefited from his dedication. In fact, David said it was one of the three great loves of his father's life.

"He loved his family, he loved his home and his second home, which he loved dearly, was the Royal Canadian Legion in Summerside," said David.

Olscamp was a member of the George. R. Parkes VC Br. No. 5 of the Royal Canadian Legion for 75 years and served in just about every position the organization has.

Among the many accolades he earned through that organization was its highest honour, the Meritorious Service Medal and Palm Leaf, as well as the Minister of Veteran's Affairs Commendation.

David said the work his father enjoyed the most was being an advocate for other veterans by helping them apply for and renew the pensions and benefits they were entitled to.

He did that as long as he was able.

Gordon Perry, president of the Summerside Legion, said that even though Olscamp's health had kept him away physically from the organization for the past few years, he was never far from the thoughts of those who knew him.

"He was very much respected, and he's going to be deeply missed," said Perry.

He added that with Olscamp's passing the number of Second World War veterans left in the legion is down to six.

In addition to his work with his local legion he also was PEI Command President of the Legion, Olscamp was involved with the Knights of Columbus, the Canadian Cancer Society, Meals on Wheels, the Kinsman and K40 Club.

He also received Summerside's Citizen of the Year Award in 1986 and was a recipient of the Rotary Club of Canada's highest honour, the Paul Harris Fellowship Medallion.

In the spring of 2022, Tignish Branch 6 invested $10,000 to restore the Tignish War Memorial. Built in 1947, the structure was built with stones from adjacent communities, collected and stored along fence lines by farmers as they cleared and cultivated their fields. The work, which consisted of removing all loose grout and re-grouting all the stonework, was contracted to the great-grandson of the original builder. The statue of Our Lady of the Angels, The Queen of Peace, as well as the steps leading to the statue were repaired, and a new coat of paint was applied by volunteers. Shrubbery and grounds were upgraded by members of the Community Improvement Committee. BETTS, Charles Robert

WWII

Private Betts was born on November 4, 1919 to parents Artemas and Katherine (Matheson) Betts of Rocky Point, PEI. His siblings were: James, John, Harold, Ruth, Ewen, Catherine, and Margaret.

Private Charles Betts served with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps. The Allies invaded the Italian mainland in the fall of 1943. By the winter of 1943, the German armies in Italy were defending a line stretching from the Tyrrhenian Sea north of Naples to the Adriatic Sea south of Ortona. The Allies prepared to break through this line to capture Rome.

For its part, the 1st Canadian Infantry Division was to cross the Moro River and take Ortona. In January 1944, the Canadian Corps selected this site, intending that it would contain the graves of those who died during the Ortona battle and in the fighting in the weeks before and after it. By November 30, the Allies had taken the Sangro River positions.

On December 6, the Canadians crossed the Moro River against stiff opposition and took Ortona on the 28th. Fighting was stalemated at Ortona with no movement east of Appennines until after the fall of Rome. Charles was with the Canadian Armoured Regiment when he was killed during the fighting at Ortona on January 8, 1944. He was 25 years old.

Private Charles Betts is buried in the Moro River Canadian War Cemetery which lies in the locality of San Donato in the Commune of Ortona, Province of Chieti, and is sited on high ground near the sea just east of the main Adriatic coast road. Today, there are 1,615 graves in the cemetery, of which over 50 are unidentified and 1,375 are Canadian.

BETTS, Willard Martin

WWII

Willard passed away on March 18, 2009. He was laid to rest in New Dominion Cemetery, PEI.

BUCHANAN, Duncan Melvin

WWI

Private (Pte) Buchanan was born on March 4, 1889, in New Dominion, to his parents Duncan and Charlotte Buchanan. His siblings were: Leonard, Angus, Margaret, Lucy, Mabel, Myrtle, and Gertrude. Duncan Buchanan worked on the family farm in New Dominion before enlisting. He was single. Private Buchanan volunteered with the 105th Overseas Battalion in Charlottetown on January 12, 1916. He was 26 years old.

During the overseas fighting, three main battles took place in Ypres, Flanders. The first battle of Ypres took place during October and November 1914. A small British Expeditionary Force secured the town and pushed back the Germans. The second battle began in April 1915 when the Germans released poison gas into the Allied lines north of Ypres. This was the first time gas had been used by either side. The violence of the attack forced an Allied withdrawal and a shortening of the line of defense. Little more significant activity occurred on this front until 1917, when the third Battle of Ypres offensive was mounted by Commonwealth forces. The initial attempt in June to dislodge the Germans from the Messines Ridge was a complete success, but the main assault north-eastward, which began at the end of July, quickly became a dogged struggle against determined opposition and rapidly deteriorating weather.

Private Duncan Buchanan was killed in action on November 5, 1917, at the age of 27 and while serving with the Canadian Infantry 13th Battalion (Quebec Regiment). The campaign finally came to a close later in November with the capture of Passchendaele Private Buchanan's sacrifice is remembered on the Ypres (Menin Gate) Memorial - Panel 24-26-28-30. The Memorial is situated at the eastern side of the town on the road to Menin (Menen) and Courtrai (Kortrijk). Each night at 8pm the traffic is stopped at the Menin Gate while members of the local Fire Brigade sound the Last Post in the roadway under the Memorial's arches. The Ypres (Menin Gate) Memorial now bears the names of more than 54,000 officers and men whose graves are not known. Private Buchanan is commemorated on Page 209 of the First World War Book of Remembrance in the Peace Tower in Ottawa.

CLOW, Edwin Thomas

WWII

Edwin Thomas Clow was born on September 3, 1922, in Summerside, PEI. He joined the Royal Canadian Air Force on October 27, 1941, and served in World War II until he was honourably discharged on August 30, 1945. He was a Wireless Air Gunner (WO/AG) and flew mostly on Lockheed Hudson aircraft. During the war, the 269 Squadron patrolled the oceans looking for German U-boats and Anti Shipping boats. They were on constant watch for U Boat and Shipping Harbour attacks, and were on surveillance to pick up survivors from downed aircraft.

Edwin started his service in Canada, was attached to the RAF #31 Operational Training Unit (OTU), in Debert, Nova Scotia, training on Hudson Aircraft. He then went to the OTU in Yorkshire, England, and over the next four years moved on to bases in Iceland, Northern Scotland, back to England, Gibraltar and the Azores, patrolling the skies and waters in the North Atlantic and South Atlantic. His Squadron was highly mobile, and he was stationed for brief periods of time in England at Bournemouth, Thornaby, (training in rockets), South Hampton, Torquay (teaching wireless operators), Penzance, East Fortune Iceland, and Turnbury, Scotland.

Edwin has received the five standard medals from his World War II service: the 1939-1945 Star, the Atlantic Star, the Victory Medal, the Volunteer Medal and the Air Crew of Europe Medal. The most important of these medals is the Tour of Operations Medal which he received at the RCAF Headquarters in London, England, after he completed his tour of duty. In addition, he has in his collection several medals that were made/distributed to veterans over many years.

Post World War II, Edwin settled in Montreal where he studied refrigeration. After receiving his Certificate in Refrigeration, he worked for a brief time in Montreal, transferred to Moncton, then returned to Summerside where he worked for 36 years as Plant Engineer for Amalgamated Dairies Ltd. He had four children, William Frederick, Charles Albert, Judith Ann and Dorothy Jean.

Edwin was an active member of the George R. Perkes, VC#5 Branch of The Royal Canadian Legion in Summerside for 67 years, and has served as President of the Royal Canadian Air Force Association. He enjoyed keeping busy at his cottage on the Locke Shore Road where he planted and harvested a great garden each summer. Edwin passed away on June 17, 2022, in his 100th year.

The Allied offensive in north-western Europe began with the Normandy landings on June 6, 1944. The offensive was the largest seaborne invasion in history and involved almost three million troops who crossed the English Channel from England. Although the beach head was captured within days, movement in-land was slow. The Canadians and the British were kept at bay north of Caen by German armored divisions. On July 25, 1944, Private Thomas Gaine was serving with the North Shore (New Brunswick) Regiment of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps when he was killed during the fighting after the liberation of Caen, France. He is buried in the Bretteville-sur-Laize Canadian War Cemetery located 14 kilometers south of Caen, the city was finally entirely liberated and the thrust begun southward and just north of the village of Cintheaux. His sacrifice is commemorated on Page 312 of the Second World War Book of Remembrance.

His siblings were: Angus, Flora Isabel, Louise Christina, Mary Eliza, Flora Isabel II, Donald, John, and Margaret Sophia. Norman MacDonald was working as a farmer in Rice Point when he enlisted. He was already active with the 82nd Regiment Militia. MacDonald volunteered with the 105th Overseas Battalion in Charlottetown on October 11, 1915. He was twenty years old and single. Following the end of the World War I, Norman married Florence Catherine MacQuarrie in 1935. They settled in Nine Mile Creek. Norman and Florence had five children. Norman returned to service in the World War II. As a member of the Veterans Guard, he was responsible for recruit training in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Following the end of World War II, they returned to the Island and he passed away in 1982.

MacDONALD, Warren C.

WWII

Sgt. Warren MacDonald was born in 1912 in Long Creek, PEI to parents James and Eliza Jane (MacEachern) MacDonald. He volunteered for active service at the outbreak of World War II and following Basic training and trade training in the Canadian Provost Corps was shipped overseas. He would serve overseas for over five and half years before returning back to Long Creek. Warren was one of the first military police (MP) to enter Amsterdam following the Armistice. This is where he would attain the rank of Sergeant. His duties would now require preparation to reclaiming inundated land, rebuilding roadways and reconstruction of bridges. He also served as one of the personal bodyguards for King George. Following his return to Canada, he lived a short time in Charlottetown prior to purchasing a farm in Long Creek with his wife Kathleen McCannell. He would also operate a small country store also in Long Creek. Warren and Kathleen raised two children. Warren passed away in 1986 and is buried in Long Creek United Baptist Cemetery.

MacGILLIVARY, Charles Andrew

WWII

Charles was born in Charlottetown, PEI on January 17, 1917. He joined the Merchant Marines at age 16. Shortly thereafter, he immigrated to the United States to live with his older brother in Boston, Massachusetts. When living with his brother, he joined the U.S. Army in January 1942. While in boot camp, he was asked if he wanted to become a U.S. citizen. He decided that if he was going to fight for the United States that he should be U.S. citizen.

MacGillivary's first wartime action came during the Battle of Normandy, landing on Omaha Beach in 1944. From Omaha Beach, he was involved in numerous liberation conflicts throughout France, before reaching Woelfling during the Battle of the Bulge. On January 1, 1945, during this battle, his unit was surrounded by the 17th German Panzer Grenadier

Division. MacGillivary, then 27, picked up a machine gun and knocked out four German machine gun nests, killing 36 German soldiers. During this action, he lost his left arm. It was for this action that he received the United States Medal of Honor "for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty."

Sixty-one Canadians who were serving in the United States Armed Forces have received the Medal of Honor; most received it for actions in the American Civil War. Since 1900, four have been awarded to Canadians.

"He led a squad when his unit moved forward in darkness to meet the threat of a breakthrough by elements of the 17th German Panzer Grenadier Division. Assigned to protect the left flank, he discovered hostile troops digging in. As he reported this information, several German machine guns opened fire, stopping the American advance. Knowing the position of the enemy, Sgt. MacGillivary volunteered to knock out one of the guns while another company closed in from the right to assault the remaining strongpoints. He circled from the left through woods and snow, carefully worked his way to the emplacement, and shot the two camouflaged gunners at a range of three feet as other enemy forces withdrew. Early in the afternoon of the same day, Sgt. MacGillivary was dispatched on reconnaissance and found that Company I was being opposed by about six machine guns reinforcing a company of fanatically fighting Germans. His unit began to attack but was pinned down by furious automatic and small-arms fire. With a clear idea of where the enemy guns were placed, he voluntarily embarked on a lone combat patrol. Skillfully taking advantage of all available cover, he stalked the enemy, reached a hostile machine gun, and blasted its crew with a grenade. He picked up a submachine gun from the battlefield and pressed on to within 10 yards of another machine gun, where the enemy crew discovered him and feverishly tried to swing their weapon into line to cut him down. He charged ahead, jumped into the midst of the Germans, and killed them with several bursts. Without hesitation, he moved on to still another machine gun, creeping, crawling, and rushing from tree to tree, until close enough to toss a grenade into the emplacement and close with its defenders. He dispatched this crew also, but was himself seriously wounded. Through his indomitable fighting spirit, great initiative, and utter disregard for personal safety in the face of powerful enemy resistance, Sgt. MacGillivary destroyed four hostile machine guns and immeasurably helped his company to continue on its mission with minimum casualties."

He also received the Distinguished Service Cross, Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Croix de guerre and Soldier's Medal.

Charles passed away on June 24, 2000 in Brockton, Massachusetts.

MacLAINE, Hattie

WWII

Nursing Sister Hattie MacLaine was born in 1907, in Rice Point, to parents Wallace and Elizabeth (MacPhee) MacLaine. She graduated as a Registered Nurse in 1931 in Charlottetown and following graduation worked as a night supervisor at the PEI Hospital. When war was declared in 1939, Hattie volunteered and joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps (RCAMC). Following her military training, she sailed from Halifax in November 1941 with the 7th Canadian General Hospital, where she would remain until she returned to Canada in June 1945. Hattie served in England, France, Belgium and Germany. She would receive her promotion to Captain just prior to her release. Following the war, Hattie returned to civilian life and she was appointed Nurse in Charge of the Veterans Wing of the PEI Hospital where she continued until her retirement in 1973. Hattie would not live long to enjoy her retirement as she passed on in 1974.

MacLEAN, Ralph

WWII

Flight Sergeant Ralph MacLean was born in 1920 in Nine Mile Creek to his parents Alex D. and Jeanette (Cook) MacLean. His siblings were: Francis, Jessie, Donald, and Harold.

Ralph MacLean enlisted with the Royal Canadian Air Force at the start of World War II.

Sergeant MacLean's plane disappeared on December 15, 1942. The plane was never found. Ralph was 22 years old. His loss is commemorated on the Singapore Memorial (Column 42) located in the Kranji War Cemetery located 22 kilometers north of Singapore. Ralph MacLean's sacrifice is recorded on Page 92 of the Second World War Book of Remembrance in the Peace Tower.

The 194th R.A.F. squadron was formed at Lahore, Pakistan on October 14, 1942. The squadron was a transport unit equipped with Lockheed Hudson aircraft. The squadron maintained mail and passenger routes in India and Burma until 1943 when the squadron joined the airborne forces. Squadron supported Army operations in Asia by dropping supplies by parachute in drop zones which were usually small clearings in the jungle. In addition to the hazards of the jungle and the storms and diseases of the tropics, the crews often had to run a gauntlet of intense ground fire from Japanese positions close to their DZs or drop zones. Airmen died over the whole of southern and eastern Asia, as well as the surrounding seas and oceans.

Packed up and loaded onto mighty ships
 Guarded from u-boats by aircrafts and blimps
 In Europe they docked, thankfully unharmed
 Not too long after, they were geared up and armed
 Into the trenches, life was unimaginable
 If you raised your hand, the noise seemed to be touchable
 The mud at their feet was sticky and wet,
 Blood stained the faces of soldiers they met
 Thrown in the mix they were quick to adapt
 To shell fire, death, lack of food and rats
 Lice in their clothes and decay on their feet
 They took turns at night while one tried to sleep
 They were under attack! Enemies were moving in
 It was the closest to them the shooting had yet been
 They sprang from their trenches prepared for a fight
 Smoke from the gunfire clouded the night
 No telling how many there were in the distance
 Fellow soldiers were falling, they needed assistance
 Running and leaping while diving for cover
 They got separated by the time the shooting was over
 One soldier left standing and searching for his friend,
 Turning over bodies in the hope it's not him

Frantically searching for his buddy from home
 He froze when he saw his helmet with the side of it blown
 For there in the distance layed a body on the ground
 The soldier stood weeping for his buddy he'd found Apologizing to him for failing to protect
 And pausing a moment to show his respect.
 After some time the war finally ended
 People called him lucky for home he was headed
 But inside he was changed not the man he used to be
 He struggled to adapt to living peacefully
 He will never forget the war and what it was like
 The suffering he witnessed and the men that lost their life
 Along with this soldier we will never forget
 Wear a poppy on remembrance day and make time to thank a vet
 For selfless they were way back in the day
 Is the reason we now have freedom to live, work and play.

The Staff and Residents at the Dr. John M. Gillis Memorial Lodge would like to commend The Royal Canadian Legion on this Veterans' Service Recognition Book - Volume Nineteen. It is significant that we remember the mission of The Royal Canadian Legion in years to come. It should remind us of the great sacrifices many men and women made in order to protect our great country during times of war.
