ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

PREMIER'S MESSAGE OF RECOGNITION

*O*ur province and country proudly stand on a foundation of democracy, rights, and respect for our fellow citizens. The men and women who gave their service to our country fought for and earned the freedoms that continue to benefit all Canadians.

The people of Prince Edward Island have a long-standing reputation for stepping up to meet any challenge, in times of struggle or stability – and our province's servicemen and women are the pinnacle of this distinction.

We honour our veterans and those who serve in our Canadian Armed Forces today, and we are thankful for their sacrifice and support. Their allegiance and dedication serve to remind us of the courage and commitment that is required to keep us all safe – at home and around the world.

As we look toward Remembrance Day 2023, we take time to express our gratitude and our respect for the many brave members of our armed forces who gave their individual service for the welfare of us all.

On behalf of the Government of Prince Edward Island, thank you to the Royal Canadian Legion-PEI Command on the publication of its annual Veterans' Service Recognition Book and for your dedication to paying tribute to the brave men and women who devoted their lives to defending and upholding the integrity of our nation.

 COMMISSIONAIRES

In this the 20th volume of the service recognition book, we find legion branches on PEI flourishing. They continue to operate, thanks to volunteers at all levels.

The community work each legion participates in is invaluable to the communities in which they reside. BRAVO, ZULU to all.

Once again, our military comrades continue to deploy around the world, as well as helping domestically when called upon. We cannot ever forget their contribution to our country's defense.

This book is a way to recognize our Veterans whether they be traditional, modern, still serving, or our RCMP Veterans from PEI regardless if these Veterans served in war or peace we cannot let fellow islanders forget the generations of Islanders who served.

" We will remember them"

On behalf of the Prince Edward Island Command, I wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to our members, staff, Ladies' Auxiliary, and our Provincial Command staff and Executive for all your challenging work. It falls on all of us to support our Veterans and dependents.

Message from the Lieutenant Governor of Prince Edward Island

The Royal Canadian Legion, Canada's largest community service organization, continues to show exemplary leadership in ensuring the continuation of the tradition of Remembrance. Members continue to carry the torch by honouring those who sacrificed so much, supporting veterans, military, RCMP and their families. Through their selfless giving, they strengthen and improve our communities.

La Légion royale canadienne joue un rôle important pour assurer la souvenance des Canadiens envers les personnes qui ont répondu à l'appel de servir notre pays en temps de guerre ainsi qu'en temps de paix. Nous vous en sommes aussi reconnaissant pour leur contribution inestimable aux communautés de l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard.

I thank the Prince Edward Island Command of the Royal Canadian Legion for reminding our society to come to our duty of remembrance to honour those veterans from Prince Edward Island who served to protect our country and to ensure the safeguarding of our rights and freedoms. I commend you, along with your partners and supporters, for producing this significant booklet of Remembrance.

Remembering two Jewish World War II Airmen: Samuel Meyer Levine and Norman Yaffe*

* Originally appeared in [Atlantic Jewish Council] Shalom Magazine, 45:2 (Fall 2020), 14-6.

When you visit the Tiferes Israel Cemetery in Moncton, one gravestone stands out. It is smaller than most, and light grey coloured as compared to the predominantly black or red granite monuments. Most monuments in the cemetery have the abbreviation pay nun (פ'נ) in Hebrew script, meaning “here lies” and a Magen David (Star of David) at the top of the monument. These markings are missing from this distinct gravestone. In addition, unlike other surnames which repeat themselves on a few gravestones in the cemetery, the surname Yaffe is unique.

On close inspection, this military gravestone marks the resting place of Aircraftman 2nd Class 1673290 Norman Yaffe of the Royal Air Force (RAF). He died on June 30, 1943. The marker is stylized like all others maintained by the Commonwealth War Graves Commission. Below the name, rank, serial number, and date of death is a Magen David with the Hebrew letters - tav, nun, tzade, bet, hei (תבצנה), which is an abbreviation of the Biblical verse, “May his soul be bound up in the bond of eternal life” (I Samuel, 25:29). At the foot, where personalized texts were allowed, is the inscription “DEEPLY MISSED AND MOURNED BY HIS PARENTS, SISTERS, AND BROTHERS AND FRIENDS.” It is the only World War II military grave in the cemetery.

On my visit to the Tiferes Israel Cemetery, I wondered why this RAF soldier was laid to rest in Moncton. I questioned whether anyone knew who he was? I pondered as to whether anyone pays tribute to him each Remembrance Day. This year, I would like to remember Norman Yaffe as well as Samuel Meyer Levine. The latter was born in Montreal and enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force (RCAF). He died when his plane crashed during a solo training flight. I would like to highlight these two overlooked men who died during their military service on Prince Edward Island, and share their tragic stories that resulted in the ultimate sacrifice.

While researching the Jewish history of Prince Edward Island (see: Shalom Magazine, Spring 2019, pp. 20-5) I was able to identify over thirty Jewish men and women in the military, who served and trained on the Island. Most were Canadians but there were Jewish men from the United Kingdom, the United States, Czechoslovakia, and Norway. Most underwent training at the RCAF bases in Summerside, Charlottetown, and Mount Pleasant and then continued to the European warfront. Others were instructors, mechanics, radio operators, and clerks whose sojourns on PEI extended from months to years. Some were accompanied by their respective spouses. Some of these Jewish airmen died while serving on PEI.

Prince Edward Island was the location of five different RCAF training schools which operated for various lengths of time during the war. In Charlottetown, there were the No. 31 General Reconnaissance School and the No. 2 Air Navigation School; in Summerside, the No. 9 Service Flying Training School (later moved to Centralia) and the No. 1 General Reconnaissance School, and in Mount Pleasant, the No. 10 Bombing and Gunnery School. The aerodrome and training school near Charlottetown was originally opened on May 1, 1941 by the RAF under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

Training in the air force has its inherent dangers. Some airmen paid the supreme sacrifice, perishing in training accidents, other mishaps or due to illness without leaving Canadian soil. During the war, 856 servicemen and servicewomen either died or were seriously injured while at air force training schools across Canada. The discussion opens with Samuel Levine who died in a flight training accident in 1941 and is followed by Norman Yaffe, who died in a ground mishap in 1943.

Sam Levine's ill-fated flight from Summerside to Point Prim on a map of central Prince Edward Island (Cummins Atlas, 1928). The blue dotted line indicates the straight-line route and not necessarily the actual route flown.

Sam Meyer Levine, courtesy of the Canadian Jewish Heritage Network.

Samuel Meyer Levine (1914-1941)

Samuel (Sam) Meyer Levine, the third son of Aaron and Ida Sarah Levine, was born in Montreal in 1914. His Russian born parents arrived in Canada in 1905. In 1921 his father was a commercial traveler in the clothing business. His annual income of $1,500 supported his family with five boys ranging in age from twelve to three years old. They lived in a rented apartment in a row house in Outremont.

Sam graduated from Strathcona Academy, a school of the Protestant School Board in Outremont. He was a well-known tennis player in Montreal having won the championship at the North Branch YMCA. He also won a championship in Summerside in the summer of 1941. He appears to have been very athletic. When he enlisted, he declared that he extensively engaged in hockey, baseball, tennis, golf, football, basketball, swimming, horseshoe pitching, table tennis, and softball.

From his high school graduation in 1931 until 1935 he was unemployed. He started working at Peerless Clothing Manufacturing Company in Montreal in the position of shipping and stock clerk. In 1937 he was the company's office manager in Amherst, Nova Scotia. From 1939 until his enlistment, he was a travelling salesman for Peerless Clothing.

He enlisted in the RCAF in Montreal in February 1941. This 26-year-old was six feet and one and a half inches tall and weighed 175 pounds. He had a dark complexion, brown eyes, and black hair. His brother Thomas C. Levine, also served with the R.C.A.F. He enlisted in December 1941.

Sam was trained to be a pilot in Toronto and Oshawa, ON, Victoriaville, QC, and Chatham, NB before he was transferred to Summerside to attend the No. 9 Service Flying Training School. He participated in Course 37 which ran from September 1 to November 21, 1941.

Sam was a newlywed. He married Margaret Fullerton in Moncton on June 28, 1941. Margaret was 21 years old and born in Sackville, NB. At the time of their marriage, her occupation was secretary. The RCAF noted in his personnel file that Sam had married without its permission. Margaret joined Sam in Summerside and resided off base with Mrs. Prichard in her home on Duke Street.

With the completion of this course, Sam would have received his flight badge. On November 18, 1941, this student pilot was the lone occupant of a Harvard Trainer. He took off from the Summerside airfield and crashed some 70 kilometers to the south-east, off the south coast near Point Prim. That afternoon snow flurries impaired visibility and according to a witness the plane appeared to be in difficulty before it crashed into the water. An extensive search found the plane wreckage but did not find his body. Only in May the following year, after the ice in the Northumberland Strait cleared, did the lighthouse keeper at Point Prim find his body washed ashore nearby.

When Group Captain E.G. Fullerton presented wings to the 51 graduates of Course 37 in the Drill Hall at the Summerside base, Samuel Meyer Levine was awarded a Pilot's Badge posthumously. He had died just three days before graduation.

According to the Charlottetown Guardian, a funeral for him was planned in Summerside for May 19, 1942. "LAC Levine will be laid to rest in the RCAF plot there with customary RCAF funeral honors." The newspaper did not realize that he was Jewish and that his family's wishes were that he be buried in a Jewish cemetery near his family. His RCAF file noted "As this airman was of the Jewish faith, there was no temporary wooden cross erected on his grave." His body was brought to Montreal for burial. Major S. Gershon Levi, Senior Jewish Chaplain, officiated at the interment at the Baron de Hirsch Memorial Park.

Norman Yaffe (1924-1943)

Norman Yaffe was born in Liverpool, England in 1924. Little is known about his childhood, but he was the youngest of eleven children. His parents Isaac and Esther were born in Russia and wed in 1901 before their emigration. By 1902 they were in Liverpool where their first child was born.

Liverpool had a Jewish community estimated at 5,000 in 1900 and it grew to some 7,000 on the eve of World War II. In 1939 the Yaffe household, residing on Russell Street in Liverpool, consisted of Norman's parents, Isaac aged 57 and Esther aged 58, and three sisters and two brothers ranging in age from 34 to 20. Isaac was a tailor's presser, as he was in 1911, and three of his children were engaged in this trade. Norman would have been around fifteen years old, but it is unclear as to whether he lived at home. The enumeration page has the listing for the eighth person in the family blackened out with the notation "This record is officially closed".

Norman joined the Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve in 1941. When he arrived in Canada, he had the rank of airman 2nd class and had been trained as a wireless operator. His arrival in Charlottetown was around two months before he died in an accident. Witnesses in their testimonies after the accident mentioned that they did not know Norman and had not interacted with him.

On June 30, 1943 at 20:05 an "Aircraft had just started to taxi along the tarmac towards taxi strip when AC Yaffe who had been walking ahead of the aircraft and to one side of it turned sharply across the path of the aircraft and was struck and killed by the starboard propeller."

The aircraft in question was an Avro Anson with an RAF crew of three men. "AC2 Yaffe had been in the aircraft making a ground test of the wireless and, having completed it, left the aircraft and commenced walking towards No. 1 Hangar which was directly in front of the aircraft across the tarmac."

After reviewing the testimony of witnesses and examining the site and evidence, the inquiry determined that the cause of the accident was the "carelessness of AC2 Yaffe N." The report added that "As he was of the Jewish faith he was buried according to the custom of that religion and within the specified twenty-four-hour time."

An announcement was placed in the Charlottetown Guardian. "Re: 1673290 AC2, Yaffe, N.S. – R.A.F."

(Deceased) calling upon any person having any claim against Norman Yaffe's estate to submit the claim in writing to the President, Committee of Adjustment, R.A.F. Station, Charlottetown.

Norman Yaffe was unmarried, and his family was in Liverpool. Unable to bury him in Prince Edward Island since there was no Jewish cemetery on the Island, he was laid to rest in the Moncton Jewish Cemetery. It was the closest Jewish cemetery. No further details and images for Norman Yaffe have been located. (It should be noted that an extensive search of British resources was not conducted.)

It is unfortunate that I was unable to include a photo of him and thus put a face to the name, but I was able to tell a bit of the story of the person beneath the monument. His memory is recalled in Liverpool with his name inscribed on the Role of Honour in the Childwall Hebrew Congregation.

For persons visiting the Moncton Jewish cemetery, I hope they will also remember Norman Yaffe, a younger Jewish man from Liverpool who made the ultimate sacrifice in the war against the Germans and their allies. If you do visit his burial place, please consider leaving a small stone on Norman's monument.

And, this Remembrance Day, let us honour the memories of two Jewish servicemen who died during World War II while stationed on Prince Edward Island. Sam Levine was among the more than 44,000 men and women in the Canadian armed forces who died in defense of Canada and its allies during this war. Nearly 450 Jewish Canadians lost their lives. Norman Yaffe was among some 20,000 Jewish men and women, around six percent of Britain's Jewish population, who enlisted in the RAF. Over 900 of them were casualties of war.

May Samuel Meyer Levine and Norman Yaffe be of blessed memory.

Dr. Joseph B. Glass is continuing his research on the Jewish history of PEI. His article "The Jewish Peddler on Prince Edward Island" was published in The Island Magazine, issue 85, Spring/Summer 2019, pp. 2-11.

If you have information, memories, stories, photographs, and other sources about the Jewish presence on Prince Edward Island that you would like to share, kindly contact him at: josephbglass@yahoo.com

“The Face of War”

This well-known poster from the Korean War Gallery of the War Museum in Ottawa shows Pvt. Heath Matthews awaiting medical attention after a night patrol in which two Canadians were killed and some wounded by shrapnel, including Matthews.

Heath Matthews was born in 1932 in Alberton, PEI, son of Emerson Matthews and Maud (Fraser). He served as a signaller with the 1st Battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment during 1952-1953.

The photograph was taken by Sgt. Paul E. Tomelin, an Army photographer with the Army P.R. Unit. This photo became famous as the “Face of War” and is a graphic depiction of the horror of war.

Heath died in 2013 at Leawood, Kansas, US at age 82.

James “Jim” MacAulay

Born in Midgell, PE on July 23, 1940, he was the son of the late Archibald and Bernadette (MacDonald) MacAulay.

Jim spent most of his career as Principal of Morell Regional High School and retired from the Eastern School District Board Office. He was a proud Alumnus of St. Dunstan’s University Class of 1962 and was a lifelong learner. In 1967, he received his Bachelor of Education and in 1978 he received his Masters of School Administration from St. Francis Xavier University. Jim received an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws from UPEI in 2014.

James joined the Morell Royal Canadian Legion in 1967. He held various positions in the Branch. The only positions that he did not hold was 1st Vice-President and President. He served as Deputy and Zone Commander for Kings County Zone.

James was elected to Provincial Command in 1991 and served as vice-president. He was re-elected in 1993 and served once again as vice-president. In 1995, James was elected to 1st Vice President of PEI Command in 1995. In 1997, James was acclaimed Provincial President. While on Provincial Command, he served as chairman of Constitution and Laws, Chairman of Youth, Leadership and Development and also Resolutions.

and Laws, Chairman of Youth, Leadership and Development and also Resolutions.

He received the Meritorious service medal in 1994. He was very much involved in his community and received numerous honours and awards for his volunteer work, including the Order of PEI.

James passed away on July 21, 2023, just two days short of his 83rd birthday.

*Packed up and loaded onto mighty ships
Guarded from u-boats by aircrafts and blimps
In Europe they docked, thankfully unharmed
Not too long after, they were geared up and armed
Into the trenches, life was unimaginable
If you raised your hand, the noise seemed to be touchable
The mud at their feet was sticky and wet,
Blood stained the faces of soldiers they met
Thrown in the mix they were quick to adapt
To shell fire, death, lack of food and rats
Lice in their clothes and decay on their feet
They took turns at night while one tried to sleep
They were under attack! Enemies were moving in
It was the closest to them the shooting had yet been
They sprang from their trenches prepared for a fight
Smoke from the gunfire clouded the night
No telling how many there were in the distance
Fellow soldiers were falling, they needed assistance
Running and leaping while diving for cover
They got separated by the time the shooting was over*

*One soldier left standing and searching for his friend,
Turning over bodies in the hope it's not him
Frantically searching for his buddy from home
He froze when he saw his helmet with the side of it blown
For there in the distance layed a body on the ground
The soldier stood weeping for his buddy he'd found Apologizing to him for failing to protect
And pausing a moment to show his respect.
After some time the war finally ended
People called him lucky for home he was headed
But inside he was changed not the man he used to be
He struggled to adapt to living peacefully
He will never forget the war and what it was like
The suffering he witnessed and the men that lost their life
Along with this soldier we will never forget
Wear a poppy on remembrance day and make time to thank a vet
For selfless they were way back in the day
Is the reason we now have freedom to live, work and play.*

Poem by Desirée Arsenault of Fortune Cove, PEI

WWII

Joseph was born in Bloomfield District, the son of Leslie and Elizabeth Ann "Bessie" (Hardy) MacMillan. He enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force on April 17, 1941 and was discharged on April 9, 1946. He served as a Sergeant in the Butcher/Cook unit in Canada and NL.

MacWILLIAMS, Dugald

KOREA & PEACETIME

Dugald was born in Eldon, Prince Edward Island in 1933. As soon as he became of age, he joined the Navy to become a member in the engine room branch. From 1950 through to the end of 1970, he served on many different ships. He was onboard HMCS Haida in Korea and was serving onboard HMCS Magnificent during the Suez Crisis. During the Atlantic Blockade when Russia was forced to remove nuclear missiles out of Cuba, he was serving onboard HMCS Cap de la Madeleine and he was serving onboard HMCS Micmac in the Baltic Sea when Russia launched Sputnik. The technical training Dugald received while in the navy enabled him to later become a millwright with interprovincial qualification. Dugald is married to Joan (Gillis) formerly from Lower Newton, PEI. They raised three daughters and two sons. In 2000, they returned to PEI to now live in Montague.

McEACHERN, John

WWII

John was born on May 12, 1890 and was killed on September 3, 1918. He was raised in Rice Point, his parents were Alexander and Ellen (Newson) McEachern and his siblings were Neil, William, Garfield, Wilfred, Jannette, Archibald, Isla, Margaret, Mary, Blanche. John McEachern went west for the harvest excursion. He saw a land of opportunity and purchased a farm in Saskatchewan. He was single and working the farm in Cambri when he enlisted.

Private McEachern volunteered with the 209th Battalion in Swift Current, Saskatchewan. The date was March 9, 1916 and he was 25 years old. On September 2, 1918, the Canadian Corps attacked the Drocourt-Quéant line to the southwest of Arras, France. Their objective was to take the crossings over the Canal du Nord, between Sains lez Marquion and Palluel, and then to move on the high ground beyond the canal. The initial assault on the Drocourt-Quéant line commenced at 5am on the 2nd. The attack was carried out in the face of very heavy machine-gun fire. The difficulties of the assault were increased by the nature of the terrain, which was marshy, and little better than a swamp. The men had to cross over this hostile surface in the open while sustaining heavy fire. On the 3rd, the Battalion received orders to continue the move ahead. Early morning air patrols reported that there were no Germans west of the Canal du Nord. The Battalion moved on, but they drew heavy artillery fire before they reached the high ground between Ecourt St. Quentin and Recourt.

Private John McEachern died in action while serving with the 10th Battalion (Alberta Regiment). He was 28 years old. Private McEachern is buried in the Dominion Cemetery Hendecourt-Les-Cagnicourt. The Cemetery was started by the Canadian units in September 1918, after the storming of the Drocourt-Quéant Line. His sacrifice is commemorated on Page 3 of the First World War Book of Remembrance in the Peace Tower.

McISAAC, Douglas

WWII

Douglas was born in Fairview to parents Donald and Mary Theresa (Murphy) McIsaac. His siblings were Alexander, Frank, Joe, Madeline, Louis Charles, Leslie, Gerald. Following his discharge from the Army, Douglas married Ella Brace. They moved to Moncton, New Brunswick where he worked for the post office. He later moved to Massachusetts before retiring in Augusta, Maine. Douglas and Mary had eight children: Thelma, Hilda, Gerard, Leslie, Catherine, Arlene and Carl. Time of death was unavailable.

McKENZIE, Theodore Cuyler

WWI

Lieutenant Theodore McKenzie served with the 8th Siege Battery, Canadian Garrison Artillery. He died on February 19, 1919, at the age of 25. He was the son of John T. McKenzie and Mary McKenzie of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. He is remembered with honour at Brookwood Military Cemetery.

POPE, Georgina Fane

BOER WAR & WWI

Georgina was born on January 1, 1862, on Prince Edward Island. The daughter of William Pope, a father of the Confederation. She travelled to New York where she trained as a nurse at Bellevue Hospital.

In October, she volunteered for nursing service in the Second Boer War. In command of the first group of nurses to go overseas, she served for more than a year in South Africa.

In 1901, Pope, along with two other nurses, Deborah Hurcomb and Sarah Forbes, received medals for their war service from the Duke of York, later King George V, during his tour to the Outposts of the British Empire.

She returned there in 1902 as commander of the Canadian Army Nursing Service in charge of a second group of eight Canadian Nurses.

In 1903, she became the first Canadian to receive the Royal Red Cross awarded to her for meritorious and distinguished service in the field. She was also the first of 6419 females to receive this award.

In 1908, she was appointed first Matron of the Canadian Army Medical Corps.

In 1917, aged 55, Pope, although in poor health, went to work near Ypres and served for the remainder of the Great War until 1918. After that she returned to her native PEI and passed away in 1938.

The Staff and Residents at the Dr. John M. Gillis Memorial Lodge would like to commend The Royal Canadian Legion on this Veterans' Service Recognition Book - Volume Twenty. It is significant that we remember the mission of The Royal Canadian Legion in years to come. It should remind us of the great sacrifices many men and women made in order to protect our great country during times of war.
